Our Annual Clearance Sale of Women's Evening Slippers.

As is our annual custom we have assembled all the incomplete lines, odd sizes and styles of Women's Evening Slippers, and priced them for immediate sale. To us they are undesirable simply because of incompleteness and our inability to satisfy patrons in all sizes and styles. To the purchaser, the woman who can use them, they are just as desirable as when first made-style, quality and service speak emphatically of such desirability, except a very few pairs which are slightly soiled from handling.

Some are beaded, others are trimmed with rosettes, while others re plain. Materials and sizes are here indicated.
